

Case Western Reserve University

Date Accessed: 11/18/2013

<http://www.case.edu/finadmin/humres/relations/ease.html>

There is no evidence of Case providing emergency babysitting services. Case does provide a consultant services to help parents find child care services, including emergency care providers.

Childcare Options – as posted on the Office of Faculty Diversity website

- Regardless of the child's age, a child care specialist provides assistance in locating child care services.
 - This child care specialist provides referrals to different types of childcare services based on your needs, such as; day care centers, family day care home providers, in-home providers, before/after school programs, preschool/headstart programs, summer programs, emergency/temporary/mildly sick care programs, and "special needs" programs.
 - In addition to referrals, the specialists can offer information on how to evaluate the quality of child care programs or providers, consultation and education on child development and parenting issues, written information and practical tools such as booklets, checklists and guides
-

Cornell University

Date Accessed: 11/20/2013

Child Care Center Description: https://www.hr.cornell.edu/life/support/child_care_center.html

Cornell Child Care Center Website: <http://child-care-preschool.brighthorizons.com/NY/Ithaca/Cornell/Parent-Resources/>

Cornell provides a back-up care program through their on campus child care center. They also provide a dependent care consultant and referral service that can help find emergency care providers.

Cornell Child Care Center Back-up Child Care

- Fees: Half day (7-12 or 1-6), $26. All day is $40
- If your child is not enrolled in a child care center, or their regular care provider/center for some reason is not available, you can bring your child to the Cornell Child Care Center for a day depending on space available at the center on the given day. This back-up program does not accept sick children.

Dependent Care Consultant and Referral Service

- Consultative assistance on resources for children with special needs, child care options, drop-in care options for parents on work-related travel, and locating informal child care options such as nannies and babysitters.
-

Lehigh University

Date Accessed: 11/20/2013

Child Care Center Website: <http://www.lehigh.edu/~inlucce/index.html>

There is no evidence of Lehigh providing emergency babysitting services.

Northeastern University

Date Accessed: 11/20/2013

<http://www.northeastern.edu/hrm/benefits/work-life/index.html> child care website <http://www.neiu.edu/~neiuccc/>

There is no evidence of Northeastern providing emergency babysitting services.

Purdue University

Date Accessed: 11/21/2013

There is no evidence of Purdue providing emergency babysitting services. Purdue has two on campus child care centers, a preschool, and provides resources a guide online about how to find child care services off campus, however based on information available online none of them provide back-up/emergency care.

Rensselaer

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013

There is no evidence of Rensselaer providing emergency babysitting services. They do have an agreement with a child care center in the area, however it does not provide any information regarding emergency babysitting services.

University of Buffalo, SUNY

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013

There is no evidence of SUNY Buffalo providing emergency babysitting services.

Syracuse University

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013

There is no evidence of Syracuse providing emergency babysitting services. They do have an on campus child care center; however it does not provide any information regarding emergency babysitting services.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013, <http://www.hokiewellness.hr.vt.edu/HomeLife/ChildCareEducationFamilyServices.aspx>

There is no evidence of Virginia Tech providing any emergency babysitting services. They do have information online regarding how to find child care and a partnership with a child care center, but there is no specific information regarding emergency babysitting services.

Michigan State University

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013

MSU has dedicated Emergency Child Care, as well as Sickchild Care, in addition to other childcare resources.

Emergency Child Care: http://www.frc.msu.edu/Child_Care/Emergency.htm

Dymek

- Each MSU employee or student is eligible to use this service five days each year for each child in the family (on an academic year basis, fall semester through the end of the following summer semester). The service is free of charge.
- A child must be free of communicable disease and capable of participating in regularly planned activities.
- Call to arrange care, up to two weeks in advance. You may be required to show immunization documentation.
- There are three child care options on campus for this service:
 - Mrs. B's Daycare: An accredited in-home group daycare program, run by Tameka Billingslea
 - Spartan Child Development Center: general childcare center
 - Free Drop-in Care at Family Growth Center: There are two sites that offer drop off respite childcare for families who need to run an errand, go to a doctor's appointment or just have time to themselves. FGC accepts children from six weeks to age five and may attend up to 6 times a month.

Sickchild Care: http://www.frc.msu.edu/Child_Care/SickChild.htm

- MSU's Sick Child Care program is designed to support busy parents who are unable to take time off work or school – the service brings qualified home care aids into your home to supervise your child who is ill.
 - MSU subsidizes 70% of the cost of care. Faculty/staff pay $5.80/hr and students pay $5/hr. For more details see Sick Child Care Program Brochure and complete the preregistration form.
-

North Dakota State University

Date Accessed: 11/25/2013

North Dakota State University has Wellness Center Child Care, which has a drop-off care program. Beyond that there is no evidence of emergency child care services.

- Drop-off care is available to students with a four hour limit. Fees are: $5.40/hour for the first child; $4.40 per hour for additional children. Fees are calculated in 15 minute increments. Fees will be collected when you pick up your child.
-

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013, <http://occf.wisc.edu/hourly.htm>

UWM provides hourly/backup care (Chicken Soup) as well as Mildly Ill Care (Maxim Healthcare Services) programs.

Hourly/Backup Care – Chicken Soup

- Hourly and/or back-up care within a separate classroom located in the Little Chicks Learning Academy or their preschool location.
- "Back-up" care includes, but is not limited to: attending class, work or meetings, attending a conference at UW or covering your child care needs when your regular provider is unavailable.
- The site also offers limited short-term contracted care while families seek their full-time caregivers.

Mildly Ill Care – Maxim Healthcare Services

Dymek

- In-home care for children that are too sick to attend their regular child care provider/school.
 - Families must submit a Kids Kare application to check on their eligibility to use the Maxim services.
 - Unfortunately, at this time, Maxim cannot take private pay families – it must be through the Kids Kare program. Eligibility for this program is not specified, one needs to apply and it is based on income.
 - If your family is eligible, you will receive 12 hours of mildly-ill child care per year through Maxim.
-

Carnegie Mellon University

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

While Carnegie does provide several child care services (Cyert Center, the Lifeworks EAP website that helps locate care takers but requires a login to access, and a Children's School), there is no evidence of back-up or emergency care.

Clarkson University

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

There is no evidence of Clarkson University providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Drexel University

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

There is no evidence of Drexel University providing any back-up or emergency child care services. They do have a website with links to help you locate child care services, but none are specific to back-up or emergency care.

Gallaudet University

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

There is no evidence of Gallaudet providing any back-up or emergency child care services. They do have a child care center on campus but of the minimal information available online it does not discuss back-up or emergency child care.

Illinois Institute of Technology

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

There is no evidence of IIT providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Kettering University

Date Accessed: 11/27/2013

There is no evidence of Kettering providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Date Accessed: 12/10/2013, <http://hrweb.mit.edu/worklife/child-care-parenting/backup-child-care>

MIT has a backup child care and adult care program called BackupCare which is provided by Parents in a Pinch. They also offer the same service to students at a subsidized rate <http://hrweb.mit.edu/worklife/backup-child-care-students>.

Overall MIT has a variety of resources for child care, including child care centers and referral/consultant services through their work life center <http://hrweb.mit.edu/worklife/welcome>.

Backup Care

- Backup child care providers can assist when normal child care or school arrangements are disrupted by school closings, vacations, or provider illness, or when a child is mildly ill.
 - Child care providers are available to come to your home, workplace, or another meeting place.
 - MIT faculty, staff, and postdocs can request up to 15 child care and/or adult care referrals annually without being charged any registration or placement fees.
 - Faculty are responsible for paying the hourly cost of the child and adult caregivers, which is currently $16.00 per hour in Massachusetts (with a minimum of four hours per day).
 - Care is available any time of day or night, any day of the week, once you have pre-registered.
 - Once you have registered and you would like to set up care, call Parents in a Pinch directly.
-

New York University

Date Accessed: 12/11/2013

There is no evidence of NYU providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Pace University

Date Accessed: 12/11/2013

There is no evidence of Pace providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Polytechnic Institute of New York University

Date Accessed: 12/12/2013

There is no evidence of NYU Poly providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology

Date Accessed: 12/12/2013

There is no evidence of Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Stevens Institute of Technology

Date Accessed: 12/12/2013

There is no evidence of Stevens Institute of Technology providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

Dymek

Worcester Polytechnic Institute

Date Accessed: 12/12/2013

There is no evidence of WPI providing any back-up or emergency child care services.

University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Date Accessed: 12/13/2013

asdaetwet

Harvard University

Date Accessed: 12/13/2013